Hello and welcome to the 2010 Los Angeles Taste of the World Festival!

My name is Johnny Martinez and I am proud to announce your company or organization has been chosen to be invited to participate in the 2010 Los Angeles Taste of the World Festival.

Your company/organization has a unique cause, product, or technology that we feel would go great in one of our five pavilions. We are aiming to be one of the largest multi-cultural events. This gives us an unique opportunity to get the word out on ecoproducts, environmental issues, causes, and solutions, as well as, eco-conscious companies/organizations, emerging technologies, helpful gizmos and gadgets, fashion tech, etc... For-profit and non-profit organizations alike can benefit from the vast possibilities of such a grand multi-cultural event.

Your company or organization has been sent this invitation, because we believe in your cause, company, products, and/or services. We believe, together we can create a grand festival, which will bring a great positive awareness, that can benefit and change the lives of the expected 75,000+ diverse visitors. Whether it is through the healthy food that our visitors eat or the eco-friendly alternative they choose to embrace, this festival will be sure to instill positive vibrations into the hearts and minds of every Taste of the World Festival visitor. We look forward to your organization joining us in creating this positive experience for the Taste of the World visitor.

You can apply for your vendor booth in one of our pavilions or you can participate as a sponsor and embed your logo, brand, or company throughout the festival and within our massive marketing campaign. Visit www.tasteoftheworldfestival.com for a vendor app and/or sponsorship package, available for your review.
